Free antivirus- and security solution for Android

IKARUS mobile.security scans your Android devices for viruses, malware and adware and reliably monitors all downloads, new installations and updates for infections. The Security Advisor also scans your device settings and warns you of potential risks or vulnerabilities.

The free antivirus app IKARUS mobile.security protects your Android smartphones and tablets without draining your battery life or memory usage.

Thanks to daily updates, continuous monitoring and definable scan intervals, IKARUS mobile.security takes care of your security automatically and without your intervention. Warnings or risks are displayed immediately and can be remedied directly in the app.

Another bonus is app blocking: this allows you to block selected apps by providing them with password protection. These apps can only become active if they have been unlocked beforehand and have no way of accessing your data or establishing connections to the outside beyond that.

Protection from malware and unauthorised access

In addition to the free antivirus features, the full version of IKARUS mobile.security offers a URL filter for safe surfing: Before visiting an infected or potentially dangerous website, the app displays a warning and you can cancel the call to the website risk-free.

The Privacy Control feature helps you protect your privacy and personal data by rating apps according to their requested permissions. This allows you to specifically check whether apps are requesting more data or access rights than they actually need for their function, and block or uninstall them if necessary.
